Re-Storying Autism

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS!

Do you have something to say about autism and inclusion? We want to talk to you!

The Re•Storying Autism in Education Project is seeking autistic people, educators, family members and service providers ages 16+ in the Brandon area for interviews to rethink inclusion in ways that desire autism.

What is required of you if you participate?
A 45-90 minute interview ($25 for your time)
The possibility of participating in a Digital Storytelling Workshop Apr. 1st-3rd ($75/day)

To schedule an interview or for more information, please contact Patty Douglas 204-596-8533 or douglasp@brandonu.ca

This project has been approved by the Brandon University Research Ethics Committee.

Patty Douglas, an Assistant Professor at Brandon University in the Faculty of Education, is leading the research project Re•Storying Autism in Education. The study is designed to better understand inclusion and belonging in schools and communities in ways that accept autism.

If you are interested in the study or have questions, please contact Patty Douglas, douglasp@brandonu.ca, 204-596-8533 or 204-727-7486. You may also contact Brandon University Research Ethics Committee at 204-727-9712 or burec@brandonu.ca for ethics related questions in regards to the study.
